CLASS TIME ALONE DOES NOT MAKE A COMPLETE MAN

In addition to the broad three-year curriculum, mentoring plays a key role in our program. Perhaps even more than what students take away from the seminars, the one-on-one mentoring gives them the opportunity to benefit from personalized orientation and goal-setting. These “coaching sessions” help students identify their strengths to maximize them, and their weaknesses to minimize them.

TOPICS COVERED

Goals In Life	Summer Employment
Study Habits	Your Personality Type
Use of Time	Career Considerations
College Application	Prudent Use of Internet & Social
Maturity Scale	Media

ALL MENTORING

is done by trained staff members who have extensive experience in character formation. Mentoring takes place at Layton Study Center once per month for 30-45 minutes. In addition to mentors meeting with each student, program directors find it useful to meet with parents to discuss how to best help them and their son.

THE COMPLETE MAN SERIES BUILDS YOUNG MEN INTO COMPLETE MEN—BODY, MIND & SOUL.

The Complete Man Series is a monthly seminar that instills, in an accelerated fashion, the knowledge and character traits that define a mature and well-rounded man. Each seminar features a one-hour speaker presentation followed by a fun and informative leadership activity. The seminar challenges young men to stand out among their peers in maturity, clarity of thought and breadth of vision.

SEMINAR DIRECTORS

DR. MICHAEL BUBON | Director of Layton Study Center: B.S. in Biology from George Mason University; Doctor of Dental Surgery from the Medical College of Virginia; Masters in Orthodontics from Columbia University. Owns and manages Bubon Orthodontics, SC with twenty five years of experience in mentoring youth.

MR. HANS CABRERA | Seminar Coordinator: B.S. in Biomedical Engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. Masters in Biomedical Engineering from Carnegie Mellon University. Currently works in West Bend for a software medical device company. Twelve years of experience working with youth.

FEATURED SPEAKERS

Include leaders and executives from business, legal & additional fields, all hand-selected for the quality & appropriateness of their presentation content.
